I Am Not Most Places Richard Cumyn

Kingston writer Richard Cumyn's second book of short stories is a remarkable collection of fiction about the curse of modernity—displacement. In striking scenes Cumyn subtly explores our own sense of abandonment and loneliness in the face of change, movement and loss. Cumyn's prose is sparse and direct, the violence suppressed beneath the surface casual and foreboding. His characters are at once familiar and eerily distinct, their relationships a tender blend of heartbreak and affection. Separations achieved through illness, betrayal, aging, necessity, choice or dismissal represent an emotional x-ray of a society looking for permanence in an increasingly fluid and precarious world. This collection will haunt you like a shadow creeping over a suburban street— all the landmarks appear familiar but each door leads to unimagined worlds. Great stories await there.
